Quick Biography

Starting as a Trainee Car Sales Executive in 1979, I quickly rose into Management. A move into training in 1992, has led me to head two major Automotive Academies.

The Mike Damant Partnership Ltd

Whilst specialising in training, coaching and consultancy for the Automotive and Retail sectors, I have also been involved with projects for media, property and hospitality.

Learning & Development

I deliver in a fun and engaging way, getting everybody involved from the opening seconds, but with a serious ambition-applied learning back into the workplace.

High Performance Consultancy

I have consulted for both Premium and Volume Brands in the UK and Europe with a defined process and proven results-here are just a few: Growth in market share, growth in enquiry rates, growth in profitability, increases in CSI to quote just a few-you could enjoy the same.

Recent quotes from delegates and participants:

“Fun, Personable, Focused, Enthusiastic, Knows his stuff, A Star!”

“Mike was brilliant! There was a great atmosphere; he was really engaging and got us all involved. A really enjoyable day with a great mix of conversation and activities. His ability to interact with the class was excellent!”

Executive Coaching

Short, sharp sessions to help individuals discover what they already know, but with the reassurance of a coach that knows their business as well as they do.
